MIMS is Australia's leading provider of medicines information. Established in 1963, MIMS has consistently been providing the Australian healthcare community the very latest in medicines information that allows them to safely prescribe, dispense and administer a medicine. The Australian based editorial team consists of over 15 pharmacists, doctors and scientists that work to ensure that the MIMS database remains current and of the quality required by the Australian healthcare community. MIMS is well known for its reference product range - MIMS Online, eMIMS, iMIMS and MIMS for Android. Also supported is over 80 clinical software partners that integrate MIMS into systems that service the hospital, GP, pharmacy, specialist and other markets. The MIMS Australian Drug database is updated every month. It is mapped to the AMT and also updates the PBS every month. MIMS also distributes a range of evidence based clinical decision support modules designed to promote the safer use of medicines.
